

A conceptual representation of the model. The multiple lines indicate flow of nutrients through the organisms. The single lines represent flow of neural information within the organism.
 (CNS = central nervous system)

