social policies and national legislation organizational and commercial practices planning controls and regional strategies community and cultural traditions school practices and peer influence family customs and choices individual self-control the child