

FIG. 1. Scatter diagrams of intakes of several vitamins (x axes) and their related biochemical indexes (y axes) are shown for children as users (x) and non-users (o) of vitamin supplements. Correlations are given only when linear relationships were apparent. Values for two children who were not fasted are circled.